

Dear Neutrino 2020 Conference Registrant,

Thank you for registering for the upcoming Neutrino 2020 conference. Given that the conference starts next week, we would like to provide you with some additional information in preparation for the online event.

A detailed agenda for the Neutrino 2020 conference is now posted and linked from our webpage:

<https://conferences.fnal.gov/nu2020/>

Talks will take place from 7:00-11:30 CDT (UTC - 5 hours) each day Monday-thru-Thursday spanning June 22 to July 2. Posters and associated videos will be available to view throughout the conference and there will be four dedicated poster sessions where interaction with poster presenters will be encouraged. In addition, there will be a virtual reality (VR) forum for the poster sessions and for more general conference interactions. Additional details on the poster sessions and VR will be sent in a subsequent email.

On Friday (U.S. time), you will receive an email with instructions on how to connect to the conference with a link to the ZOOM webinar that we will be using to broadcast the plenary talks. We have also posted some Frequently Asked Questions on our webpage that you may find helpful when attending.

We look forward to an excellent line up of talks and posters featuring the latest in neutrino physics! Please be on the lookout for further emails with connection details for both the talks and poster sessions later this week.

Sincerely,

Steve Brice, Marvin Marshak, Sam Zeller
